The Agri Horticultural Garden is a 203-year-old sprawling garden, founded by William Carey. It is run by The Agri Horticultural Society of India. Garden houses a herbal medicinal garden, the Bhesan Udyan where students were able to see many medicinal plants which otherwise are not a common occurrence. This was in particular helpful as per their syllabus. Other than that garden gave students a glimpse of an orchidarium, rose garden, succulent garden and green house also known as the Darbhanga House as it was gifted by the royal family of Darbhanga.
